

NEWS FROM FORT MONROE.

Arrival of Union Prisoners from Richmond.

Release of Colonels Lee, Wood and Cogswell.

Names of the Officers and Privates Set at Liberty.

Interview Between General Wool and Howell Cobb.

Both will return to Baltimore to-night.

The Adelaide brought down the balance of the Sixth Wisconsin regiment, and conveyed them to Newport News this morning.

The Hoboken, with the submarine cable to be laid across the bay, did not leave until about half-past two o'clock this afternoon.

A connection having been made between the cable and the land wire, at its termination at Beach Grove, above the fort, constant communication is had between the Hoboken and General Wool's headquarters.

Everything was progressing satisfactorily up to four o'clock this afternoon, when Mr. House telegraphed that he had proceeded about five miles out.

There is no doubt about the line being successfully laid, and if the weather is favorable the line will be open to-morrow forenoon.

The George Washington left at half-past nine o'clock this morning for the James river, to receive about the hundred and thirty released Union prisoners. She has now (two o'clock) returned.

The released prisoners go to Baltimore tonight. Among them are the Colonels Cogswell, Lee and Wood, Lieutenant Harris, and about a dozen other officers; also the crews of the schooner Adella, captured in the Gulf of Mexico on the 1st of November, and the brig Eleanora.

The largest number of the prisoners returned belong to the Tammam and First California regiments.

A large proportion of the prisoners were captured at Ball's Bluff.

Fortress Monroe, Feb. 25, 1862.

Visit of General Wool to Richmond—Interview Between Wool and Howell Cobb.

General Wool, who arrived at Richmond on the 23rd inst., and who was accompanied by his staff, consisting of Colonel Le Grand B. Cannon and Major William P. Jones, Colonel M. N. Fells, President of the Bay line of steamers, was a guest, and accompanied the General on his visit to Richmond.

The rebel steamer West Point, having on board Brigadier General Howell Cobb and Colonel Preston, of General Huger's staff; Colonel Cobb and Captain Bassett, was waiting the arrival of General Wool of Craney Island, and both boats being lashed together, General Wool was invited on board of the West Point, and there made all necessary arrangements for the object he started for.

The visit of General Wool to Richmond naturally created a great deal of commotion at Old Point, and as the true object of the flag of truce was not generally known, all possible rumors were circulated. Some people held that the recent victories at Bonhoeke Island, Fort Henry and Poison Island, such a despondency into the rebel chiefs, that, fearing General Burnside would soon move on Norfolk, and that discretion was the better part of valor, the citizens of Norfolk determined on a surrender. Several such idle rumors were put in circulation, and before the steamer Adella, which carried General Wool and staff, was fairly out of sight, it was already noised about that Norfolk would be occupied to-morrow by Gen. Wool. However, at half-past two o'clock the General returned to the fort, and, as near as I can learn, has expressed himself highly pleased with the interview.
